Senior Class History

E IT far from us to burden future classes by enumerating the collective and individual achievements of the class of nineteen thirty-one. However, we feel that humanity and mankind will be benefited by some sort of record of our activities, hence this brief history.

Let us pause long enough to scan the monumental pages of our Freshman days whose initial date was September seventh, nineteen twenty-eight. On that memorable day many youthful pilgrims, seeking the fountain of knowledge to satisfy their desire for understanding and propagation of a higher and a more idealistic plane of civilization, anchored their vessels and felt marooned on the shore of an unacquainted land, which after immediate exploration they found to be Howard College. The unseasoned but ambitious lads cast their lot with this great institutional brotherhood and their conception of college life as a second paradise was soon substantiated by a royal reception given by faculty and upper classmen alike.

Fraternity and sorority rush opened new avenues of adventure for many of us and it was not long before we were thoroughly familiar with Greek letters which only a short while before had been Hebrew to us. Proudly we wore our pledge buttons and when Christmas rolled around we went home feeling like experienced college men and women.

Mid-term exams followed close on the heels of the Christmas holidays, too close in fact as some of the weaker brothers and sisters fell by the wayside. Those who did survive resolved to labor hard in order to keep the letter E, which does not mean excellent, by the way, from appearing on any report cards sent home to the parental authorities.

We came to know of brief trips to Duck Inn for hamburgers and "dopes" between classes and at other times when we might have been other places with better profit. We also learned of the comradeship in sorority spreads, days in a friend's room at the dormitory, Stunt Night, spring and its accompanying ailment which brings with it a desire to cut classes recklessly and sit out on the campus. Day followed day and commencement came bringing with it joys and sorrows—joy for those who won the coveted sheepskin and sorrow for those who flunked out. We mentally resolved to some day become the proud possessor of a diploma and to strut about for a brief time in a flapping gown and mortar board cap set at a jaunty angle.

When our second year began, we felt that nothing was too good for us and we assumed a pose of nonchalance, although all of us did not light Murads. One year before had marked the beginning of our college life which by now had grown by leaps and bounds to the eminence of upperclass authority. We were fast taking on the ways of those who had been our superiors and we purposely misdirected freshmen seeking class rooms and had as much fun as we dared. It was an easy matter to drop into the vernacular of "frosh" or "rat" so and so. Freshmen ran our errands, carried our books, and spoke with the humility which is joy to a sophomore's heart. Once again we scored over Birmingham-Southern in football, and although the events were tragic previous to the game, our Alma Mater showed once again that Howard was right.

Someone has rightly said that the Junior year is like a slough of despondency, and this is easy to understand. A new student becomes a sophomore in due process of time and by his third year has wearied of showing his newly acquired authority. It has begun to pall on him and he looks about for new interests. Some of the class of '31 began earnest studying, others took life in a carefree manner and others just took it as it came. All, however, pulled with might and main for that Howard spirit which characterizes and colors everything about the school. We scored another victory in football with our Hilltop rivals. Christmas came and went, as did exams and in the spring the Building Fund Campaign was begun to canvass funds for the new gymnasium. Students vied with one another in securing money and the campaign culminated in the May Day celebration.

Our final year has resulted in a Greater Howard than ever before. We have seen great things done in the college in the way of improvements. We have grown in athletic prominence; a new gymnasium and activities building is now on the campus; the cafeteria has been made possible through the Howard Auxiliary; the library has been remodeled and new members have been added to the faculty. Our only sorrow is the loss of our President, Dr. John C. Dawson, who has accepted an offer from the University of Alabama.

Our memory books may be scanned for achievements, but we will have to break down and confess that the departure of old '31 will put a dampener on many activities. But we wax humble in departure to take our places in a long procession of alumni of our school and we shall place four happy years of academic sojourn in the golden frame of memories and raise our faces to what destiny has in store for us. We shall never forget the associations and friendships that make every part of this campus a niche in memory's wall, surrounded with pleasure.

Four years we have been storing up treasures, and as we turn from college life and enter the doors of the school of life let us take with us those principles and high ideals which have been instilled in us during the last four years.

Let us live daily a life which exemplifies the best that is in us and hold up the spirit and honor of Howard.

HAZEL AWTREY, Historian.

Senior Class Prophecy

Birmingham, Ala. Sept. 5, 1940.

My DEAR EFFIE:

As the time draws near for school at Howard to open my thoughts go back to all of the members of the graduating class of 1931. Naturally I thought of you and wondered how you have been progressing in your research work on Indian relics of the State of Alabama. I am quite interested in this work and hope to learn some interesting facts that might help me in my work as a teacher. For the past summer I have travelled quite a bit with a group composed of Helen Bosworth, Louise Case, Martha Harris, Florence Manley, and Marion Keith, under the direction of Roy Flanagan and Hoke Dew. We visited Washington, D. C., first and here found much to delight us, but the biggest thrill of all came when we were allowed to visit the White House and interview the President, Robert Padgett. He treated us royally, as did his wife, Mary Katherine Waters. Little did we dream that this would one day come to pass. Miracles never cease to happen, you know.

While there, we also had the pleasure of meeting two Senators from Alabama, Andrew Prewitt and Clyde Wilder. Mrs. Wilder, the former Mary Elizabeth McIntosh, entertained for us. Sarah Bates and Virginia Bishop were also there visiting Mrs. Wilder. During the function Esther Whiteside, the famous American pianist, and Harold Kuhnle, violinist, gave a performance. We regretted leaving Washington but our regret was short-lived in the face of our pleasure on entering New York. We were very much pleased with Frances Harris' newest play, "The Mirror," which has been running on Broadway for quite a while. Mardis Howle is director and Hazel Leveille has the leading role opposite Lucian Algee. You will also be interested to know that Gerald Harper and Ruth Ellis have important roles in the play, while Wade Lamberth is good in his blackface comedian part.

Imagine our astonishment at finding in the Follies some of our old classmates, Lena Green, Ruby Huffman, Elizabeth Smith, and Clara Thomas. We talked with them after the show. Later we visited Columbia University, hoping to gaze upon Howard graduates who might be there. Elizabeth and Jules de Launay, Catherine Gerald, Nellie Mann, and Selwyn Smith were pursuing their respective studies here, after several successful years of teaching. We simply could not pass up a chance to visit Niagara Falls. Hearing that at a certain time two men were to go off the Falls in barrels we hurried there to witness the event. To our utter amazement we discovered that these men were Albert Dix and Odes "Atwater" Kent. They informed us that they had been in work of this kind for over two years. We were interested to find out that Frances Elliott and Ellen Williams are engaged in work of a similar nature.

We went to our hotel and found some honeymooners from Howard and of course you can guess who they were. Martin Nunnelley and the former Wilma Buck, Jule of some

Howell and his red-headed bride, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmer (Sally High) and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Goodwin (Margaret Newell). At Detroit we found at the Ford plant Charles Blanton, Eugene Emfinger, Lawrence Gilmer, Gordon Hankins, Homer McDonald, Sam Mayo, Chester Norris, Early Perdue, Curtis Summers, Oscar Veazy, H. B. Williams, and Hankins Sloan. In Chicago, Harry Cohen is editor of the "Chicago Tribune," and on the editorial staff are Frances Vail, Mack Ward, Dorothy Simpson, Walter Lee Robertson, Haywood Woolley, Jesse Brown, May Clark, Ruth Jewell, and Gladys Graves.

Chicago has quite a few Howardites, among them being Alfred Turnipseed, who is employed by all the gangsters. Beatrice Newman is his secretary and I was told by her that Bill Warrick is a second Al Capone and is associated with the following gangsters: Luther Vines, John Urquhart, Norman O'Neal, W. C. McIntosh, and J. W. McLendon. We are sorry they have strayed from the straight and narrow way.

The next place where we found anyone we knew was in Hollywood, California. Here we saw Gladys Wright, also Frances Ferrell, Bill McMurry, C. L. Harper, and Horace McDanal, who are all movie stars. I'm sure you have seen them in various movies. They are all very talented.

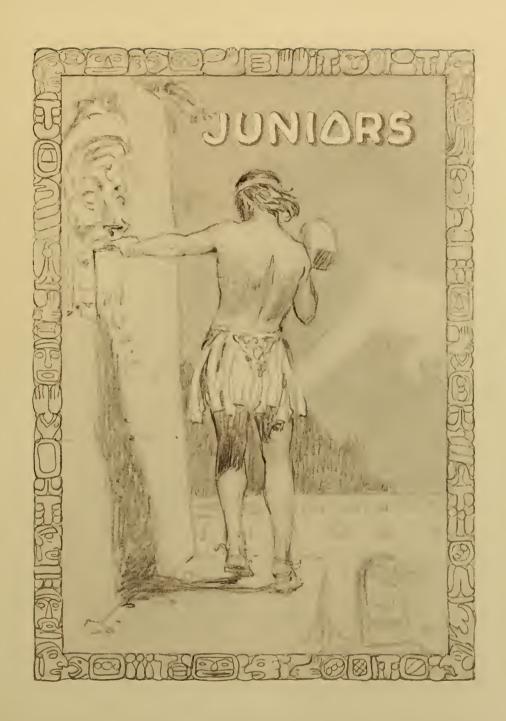

We visited many other points of interest, arriving back in Birmingham two weeks ago. I do wish you could have been with me, Effie. Ruth Gravlee Waggoner called me yesterday and invited me over to see her. She and Paul are happier than ever. I suppose you have heard that Polly York is to be married next month to a leading doctor in Birmingham. And you must have received wedding invitations from Mary Ruth Owen, Jeanette Morgan, and Agnes Whitehouse. Quite a few of the old class are married or planning to be soon. I was looking over a Howard bulletin yesterday, and discovered that Beckham Palmer is president and Fulton Abercrombie is head of the Biology Department. Hazel Awtrey is an instructor and Raymond Davis is back again this year as head football coach with Russell Bullard and Haywood Hargrove as his assistants. Wheeler Garrett is now the dignified owner of Duck Inn. I noticed in the paper that Grady Gilbert, who has a farm, was advertising for a wife. I never dreamed he would do that. I also noticed that Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Woods have a chicken farm near Hayleyville. Elizabeth Huff is head nurse at St. Vincent's and Addie Bell Horton is also a nurse. Hudson Hicks and Dewey Cox are in the hospital and are just now recovering from the severe beating given them by a mob when they refused to let their whiskers grow last year before the Howard Southern game.

Effie, doesn't all this make you want to go back for just one day to live over the old days again?

Write soon for I am anxious to hear from you. With love,

MAYME LOWRY, Prophet.

HOWARD'S COACHES

The Coaches

Howard has been fortunate in having this season a rare combination in coaches. L. P. McLane, better known in athletic circles as Eddie, served in the capacity as head coach, ably assisted by Williams (Doc) Newton and Billy Bancroft, the latter a star on the Bulldog squad a few years ago and known throughout the South as a small but powerful part of the team. "Doc" Newton has labored in the vineyard of freshman sports and developed much excellent material for future varsity successes. Newton also scouted the games of Howard's opponents and has contributed much to athletics in the college.

With the completion of the new gymnasium by the opening of school this year a program was instituted along definite lines of physical education for men, a vital part of college life which has been lacking up to the present time. Great strides have been made with the introduction of intramural sports which have hitherto existed but not on the present well-organized plan.

McLane thoroughly understands Howard athletics, being a former Bulldog football star himself and has the full co-operation of all the players. Together with Bancroft and Newton, McLane seems to be endowed with the ability and happy faculty of getting the most out of athletics willingly and with good results all around. Coach has made an excellent record in the S. I. A. A. and no game which was lost was taken by a margin over seven points, except the Alabama game. Beginning the season somewhat handicapped by the loss of a number of varsity players from last season, he has uncovered a wealth of material in the sophomore section.

The McLane-Newton-Bancroft coaching staff will begin its third year of service to the college next year and we look forward to the season with excellent prospects and a great deal of interest.

THE SQUAD

The Season

The Howard College Bulldogs opened their 1930 grid menu under the floodlights of Legion Field on September 19, and won by an impressive score, 51 to 0. The Marion Cadets were the losers. Marion presented a light, weak team that was battered to bits by the fighting Bulldogs. Howard showed great skill on both the offense and defense. Levvy, Estes, and Clark played stellar roles as ball carriers, while Laney stood out in the line. It was an easy victory for Howard, and McLane used his entire squad.

On the Saturday following, which was September 27, Howard journeyed down to Tuscaloosa to meet the powerful Alabama aggregation, which later won the Southern Conference Championship. Alabama ran over Howard like Howard had run over Marion and smothered the Bulldogs by a 43 to 0 score. The Crimson Tide used three teams against the young Baptists, with only the regular eleven being able to score. The Bulldogs played a losing game, yet their fighting spirit ruled supreme. Davis was master of line play for the day.

Jacksonville Normal fell before the rangy Bulldogs on October 3, in Anniston, by a count of 21 to 0. Howard, crippled and with several players on the injured list, led the Teachers a merry chase and three times crossed the goal line. Bondurant added the extra point from placement kick. Clark and Bullard were very effective on the offense. Glenn and Captain Hargrove starred in the line.

Memphis, Tennessee, set the scene for Howard's third road trip and Southwestern served as the opponents. Howard played the hardest and most strenuous game, and won 6 to o. Southwestern had a swift, tricky team that fooled the Bulldogs often, but with the aid of Davis in the center of the line directing the team on each play, the Lynx tried all and failed. It was a game of skill, endurance and wit combined, and Howard was lucky to win.

The McLanemen two weeks later visited Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, to play Duquesne University. The Bulldogs fought one of the best battles of the year, but lost, 14 to 9. Duquesne took the lead early by recovering a fumble, but Howard followed, scoring 9 points. Gordon Garrett recovered a blocked punt behind the goal. Earl Goodwin had shifted his form in front of the oval. The final half was filled with thrills supreme. Sweeney was excellent in flinging passes and running with the ball and starred in the game with Goodwin and Davis. Duquesne is coached by Elmer Layden, former Notre Dame star, who has put out an excellent team for the past several years. Howard was fighting on a wet and slippery field, and scored what many sport writers called a moral victory, although coming out on the end of the score to the tune of 14 to 9. This game was played at night.

Maryville College brought a husky Tennessee eleven to Legion Field on October 24 and was defeated by the Bulldogs 14 to 6. It was Howard's second home game. The game had little color, yet Pete Estes showed wonderful ability as a ball carrier. Howard met Chattanooga on November 1 in Chattanooga and lost 13 to 9. The Moccasins, led by good generalship, took advantage of a fumble and a four-yard punt to score twice. A pass, Levvy to Goodwin, and then a forty-yard dash by the latter netted Howard seven points. A safety added two more.

The Howard-Miami game, staged in Dothan, Alabama, on Armistice Day, was filled with mud and water and a 24 to 0 victory for the Bulldogs. Little Pete Estes again starred as he and Russell Bullard bounded off on long, thrilling runs. Bullard returned a punt 45 yards for a score. Sweeney and Clark also played excellent games.

The year's greatest football game, the Battle of the Marne, found Howard losing to Southern by a 13 to 7 score. Southern played superb football, while Howard lagged in both offensive and defensive play. The Bulldogs scored first on a delayed pass from Sweeney to Clark, who ran beautifully for 25 yards and a score. The Panthers scored a moment later on a 25-yard penalty and then a two-yard buck. The half ended, Howard 7 and Southern 7. Southern outplayed Howard in the final half, and a pass from Black to Rice over the goal gave the Hilltoppers a six-point lead and a victory for the first time since 1922.

Spring Hill beat Howard in Mobile on Thanksgiving Day, 14 to 7, and then claimed the S. I. A. A. title. Spring Hill had a good team that scored early to win. Estes again played superior football, while Clark followed with an equal performance. Levvy's punting, passing, and running were also splendid.

The Bulldogs had a hard schedule with seven foreign games and three home games. Of these, three were played at night, being the games with Duquesne, Marion, and Maryville. Howard looked fine throughout the season and lost only one game by a margin over seven points and that to the championship University of Alabama. The squad won five and lost five to close the season with an average of .5co. The Union University game, scheduled for November 29, was called off. Prospects for next year seem to be unusually good in view of the fact that there is a wealth of material in the present year's sophomore players. Added to this, a number of outstanding freshmen will graduate to varsity ranks next year.

As usual, graduation will take from the ranks of the Bulldogs a number of players whose places will be hard to fill. The squad loses the services of Raymond Davis, All-S. I. A. A., and the greatest center ever to don the Baptist uniform. Davis will be missed next year. Russell Bullard also will be missing from the team next year, as he too leaves by the graduation route. Bullard has been responsible for much of the Bulldog success during his four years sojourn at Howard. Wheeler Garrett, another of the famous Garrett Brothers, has been a mainstay on the team and his place will be hard to fill. Captain Haywood Hargrove, from Memphis, Tennessee, has played his last game for the Baptists, as has Hoke Dew, veteran tackle, and Roy Flanagan. Grady Gilbert has contributed four years' service to the team and will be missed next year. Levvy, the Bulldog's pass expert, leaves via the graduation route. However, with all these members of the team absent next year, prospects point to another season when Howard's Right.

THE BASEBALL TEAM

Howard Baseball

Coach Newton led his 1931 baseball team through one of its most victorious seasons, winning ten, losing seven, and tieing one. The season was bright for Howard and soared high, with the losses trailing far behind the Bulldog wins and an average of .700 standing firm at the end of the season. The splendid teaming of the strong Howard men showed that a skilled tutor was at its head. The Bulldogs opened their season with Alabama at Tuscaloosa, and dropped the two games by scores of 10 to 0 and 7 to 4. Max Hinson pitched the opener in great style, but poor support led the Tiders to victory. "Atwater" Kent took the role as hurler in the second game, which was a good exhibition until Kent sent a fast one down the groove to Sington, who parked it out of the ball park. This was probably the longest hit ball during the season, and Alabama won, 8 to 4.

Howard's third game was played with Spring Hill, an S. I. A. A. foe, and the game ended in a deadlock, with Kent and Foster as duelists. It was an eleven inning game, with darkness coming too soon for the 3 to 3 tie to be broken. The game held many thrills as closing periods were played air-tight.

Marion suffered defeat in three struggles with the strong Newton nine by counts of 12 to 0, 20 to 3, and 7 to 3. Page shut the cadets out in the opening game of this series. "Lefty" McLendon was right with his south paw in the second game and won in splendid form. The southpaw's canny delivery proved too bewildering for the cadets. Kent led the Bulldogs in their final game with seven scores for Howard and three for Marion. Vic Goodwin led the batting for the Bulldogs, getting two homers and a double. Captain Watson and Tom Bondurant also starred with a circuit each.

The seventh and eighth games were played with the University of Mississippi, which resulted in a win for Howard to the tune of 9 to 6 in the first encounter and a loss, 4 to 2, in an eleven inning tussle. McLendon was again clicking with his left in natural form. Kent hurled the second and lost after a struggle of eleven innings, playing like an iron man in his second eleven-inning affair.

Birmingham-Southern had little resistance to offer the east-side team, and lost three of their four games with Howard. Kent won the initial game of the series, 14 to 3. Ray Parks and Bondurant were Newton's stars in this game. McLendon opened the second game, but was relieved in the third inning by Kent, with the score favoring the Panthers 3 to 0. Kent brought the Bulldogs from behind to win, 4 to 3, giving up only one hit in the remaining six innings of play. Southern annexed the third game by a count of 6 to 4. Hinson pitched, but poor support forced him into defeat. Newton put new life into his men for the final game and sent them to the diamond to bat out sixteen runs to the Panthers' three. Kent hurled, and Bettison also starred.

Howard met Bowdon College in a four-game series, with the Baptists winning the first three by scores of 3 to 0, 12 to 2, and 14 to 8, but lost the fourth by a count of 9 to 6. Bud Harris' team had a fair season, yet Coach Newton had primed his Bulldogs to their peak and shot them through the series in excellent style. Ellis Page pitched his second shut-out of the season in the first game with Bowdon. Page was keen on the mound and showed much skill and perfect form. Bowdon was blanked 3 to 0, and McLendon won the second, 12 to 2, with Hinson taking the third, 14 to 8. The Bowdon team was hitting and fielding fine in the last game to win by a count of 9 to 6.

The last two games of the season were with Auburn, who won both after playing hard, even, balanced games, and at the close led 7 to 4 and 8 to 6. The closing game of the season was one of the best during the year. Kent pitched excellent ball for seven innings, but weakened and was relieved by Page. Kent struck out fourteen men and Page two.

The Bulldogs had a good season and completed the year with letters going to the following men: Bettison, Spicer, Captain Watson, George, Burns, Bondurant, Kennamer, Goodwin, Hinson, McLendon, Page, Kent, Parks, Long and Robbinette. Charles Etheridge was superior as an excellent manager.

1931 Basketball

Hubert Hilton, midget forward, was one of the best basketball men Howard had back for the 1930 floor five. "Pooley" had a keen eye for the basket and registered impressively.

Ray Parks, stellar junior performer, played a splendid cage game with the Bulldogs in his sophomore year; he also repeated the excellent feat as a junior. "Baby" had plenty of canny shifts that were unexcelled and was a sure shot.

Russell Bullard, senior guard, played a nice game on the hardwood. After returning late to the floor game, Russ starred in every game. His fine defensive work dominated the Bulldog team.

Tom Bondurant was a weathered guard that loved the basket sport. His excellent spirit as well as his brilliant playing pushed the McLanemen upward. "Blondy" will have one more year to play for Howard.

Horace Dew closed out a sensational basketball career by graduation. "Hoke" played at center and showed keen interest in the game. His vigorous efforts were marked by the word success.

Dewey Cox was a smart guard that had seen one season of varsity work. He knew the game thoroughly and played wisely. Cox is lost to the cage game through graduation.

Cherry Foster, individual star, worked most impressively at forward. Cherry had once played under the Bulldog flag two years past. His return was hailed with delight and his playing was superb. The star forward had an eagle eye for the basket.

Bert Kimbrough, sophomore forward, rounded out a flashy form after leaving the frosh quint. "Kittie May" was small in size but great in the floor game.

"Vic Randolph was a stepper that set out with a great pace as a guard. "Vic" played bright basketball and seldom was a goal made in his zone, so excellent was his defensive work.

Gordon Garrett, center, was a star from the beginning. His jumping, passing and shooting placed him in the front ranks of Bulldog players. The rangy center will be back next year and great things are expected of him.

Howard Sentell joined the Howard cage team and performed well. Sentell's knowledge of the game was unlimited and he shone in practically every game.

Awbrey Gresham, manager, was very active as a Bulldog basketeer. His untiring work was met with excellent co-operation from all the team.

Alfred Brown, ex-freshman guard, played a good season with the cagemen. "Al" had plenty of fight and drive and will return for two more years of play.

C. W. Bates fought hard to attain a regular place on the Red and Blue squad. "Grubby" put in plenty of hard work which transformed his efforts into a season of brilliant floor play.

THE FRESHMAN SQUAD

Freshman Football

The Howard Rats played one of their best years on the gridiron, even though Coach Newton was forced to alter the formations time and again in order to prepare the varsity for their rough opponents. Newton led his eleven to Tuscaloosa for the initial game of the year and the Baby Tiders came out on the long end of the score, 18 to 7. It was a hard-fought game with the Bullpups fighting a much heavier and more experienced team. Howard scored as the result of a blocked punt on the 30-yard line that rolled to the six-yard stripe before a Bullpup covered it. Henry Smith blocked the kick. Charlie Hulsey, after three tries had failed, ran the ball over and kicked for extra point. Lawson, Hatcher, and Hulsey were the outstanding players of this game.

The frosh next met the Chattanooga Baby Moccasins and were defeated by a score of 14 to o. Chattanooga had a good team with plenty of reserve strength. "Red" Garrett, Hickman Ewing, Swede Lawson, Joe Wells, and Dunnaway looked good for Howard. In the next struggle the Pups were smothered by S. M. A., 18 to o. Howard had just changed from the Southwestern system to the Rockne system, and thus were not in the best of shape to meet S. M. A. Fontille, Sheehan, Smith, Webster, and Kennedy were outstanding for the Howard frosh.

Bowdon College brought a strong team to Berry Field in hopes of victory, but the Bullpups staged a comeback and held them to a scoreless draw.

Bowdon was forced to take the defense in the early minutes of play and did well to hold their own. Green and Ewing gained the yardage for Howard while Hinz, Stidham, Garrett, Wells, and Hubbard played brilliantly on the defense. After losing three and tieing one game, the Bullpups met the Baby Panthers from Southern. Howard was rated far below the Southern team, yet "Doc" Newton primed his men so that when the game had ended Southern was defeated, 7 to 6.

The Bullpups put up a fighting spirit that has never been equaled and after sixty minutes of spirit was too forceful. The Bullpups earned their score after a pass from Ewing to Garrett had placed the ball on the 11-yard line. Ewing, on a triple lateral pass, carried the ball over and sewed up the game. The combination was Hulsey to Fontille to Ewing. Hulsey kicked the goal for extra point. A pass also netted Southern their touchdown, but the extra point was missed and the game lost.

Newton's frosh team had a keen supply of footballers that will give much power to the varsity squad next year.

Freshman Baseball

The Howard College freshmen of 1930 enjoyed a fine season of baseball on the diamond. Clarence Vines was coach of the hefty baseball squad.

The Bullpups underwent a seven-game schedule, with the Alabama frosh opening it at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, was 9 to o. The freshmen were then off on a three-day road trip to Greensboro, where they played S. M. A. Howard lost two and won one of the three tilts. Birmingham-Southern had a strong rat nine and won the three-game series easily. The Bullpups had a good team, with such players as Fayette, Sweeney, Laney, Goodwin, Sentell, Gresham, Manasco, Smith, Brown, the Hall twins, Lee and Joe, Glenn, Garrett, Bates, Randolph, Trammill, and Waggoner.

Roy Fayette led the team in hitting as well as being a swift and errorless shortstop. Awbrey Gresham played a good season behind the bat with Manasco, Brown, and Glenn showing efficiency at bat. Bates and Randolph were stellar as pitchers for the Pups.

The Women's Athletic Association

BOARD

Women's Athletic Association

For the first time in the history of the college a program of Physical Education for women was instituted. At the beginning of school this year the new gymnasium had practically reached its completion and shortly all co-eds were enrolled in physical education classes, under the capable direction of Miss Emily Cate, an experienced instructor.

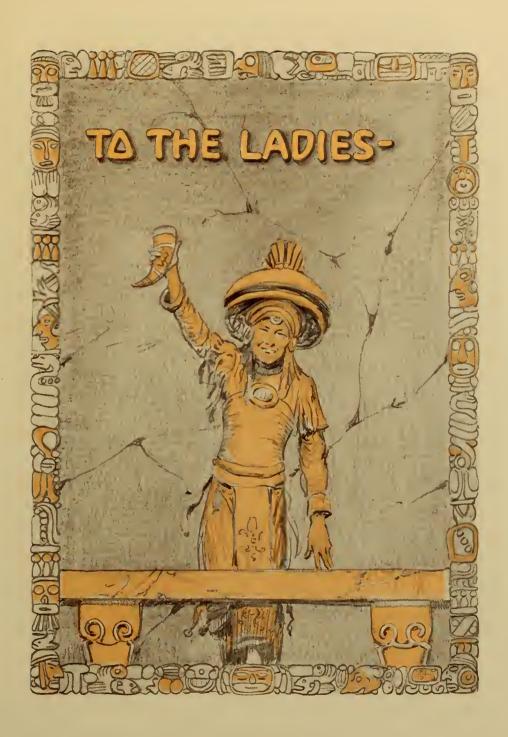

Due to the newness of Physical Education, or rather the lack of it in former years many co-eds did not take kindly to the idea of compulsory gym classes and excuses offered were both many and original. In fairness to the college let it be said that as this subject is a partial requirement for the degree, those who are physically unable to take the full course are given gym on a modified basis.

The Fall season opened with main attention being given to tennis and hockey. Co-eds soon became acquainted with blisters on their palms, and such vernacular as lobs, smashes, forehand and backhand drives, aces, service courts and the like. Hockey teams practiced daily on Berry Field and fast acquired the rudiments of the game.

During the winter months special attention has been given to class athletics with emphasis on basketball and swimming. Classes for the latter have been held at the Birmingham Athletic Club and a marked improvement has been shown in diving and strokes.

With the co-operation and assistance of the Y. W. C. A. the Women's Athletic Association was formed and a set of capable officers installed who bid fair to make W. A. A. a moving force on the compus. As the yearbook goes to press, plans are being formulated for an annual play day to be held in the Spring under the auspices of W. A. A.

Modern Greek Drama

AN EXTRAVAGANZA IN SEVEN ACTS AND SEVERAL SCENES

Presented by the GREEKS of dear of H'ard.

ACT I. SCENE 1.

Time: Around the opening of school, rush season is on.

Place: Pikaya House somewhere on Underwood Avenue.

Dramatis Personae: Harold and Jake, Potts, Givens, et al., and one innocent Frosh.

Givens: Frosh, did you know that we rate better than any other bunch on the campus? We've been out here since 1911, that is, the fraternity has and Harold has too, but we don't mind him. He may spend another ten years with us. We get anything we want.

Frosh: Silence.

Jake: Take our bid and you can spend two-thirds of your time at Montague. We practically own the steps there and the funny part is the Sigs think the same thing, but the joke's on them. Anytime you want to find Bill or Clyde or Blaylock or the rest of them go to Montague.

Frosh: Countenance registers a blank.

Potts: I'm not trying to act swell-headed but we really are the most popular bunch on the campus.

Harold: You'd better think twice before you refuse our bid. We have lots of important offices and aside from Turnip, we have Algee who can always be depended on to run for something. He is President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Also Ran Club, a union of defeated politicians. It's a very exclusive organization and if anybody ever did deserve the honor, Algee's the one for it.

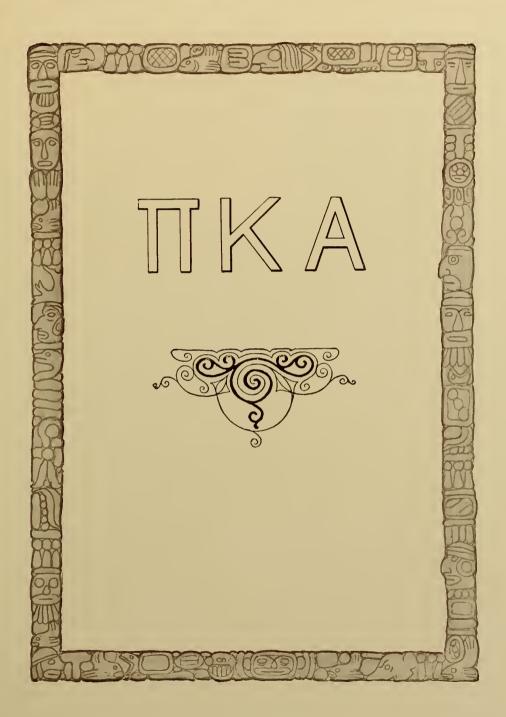

Jake: Another thing, we always abide by Pan-Hellenic rules, too, and don't let anybody kid you about that. If they tell you anything about pledge pins, don't notice them.

Potts: Listen, Frosh, we've got the best all 'round boy on the campus, he's always round at the A. D. Pi room; we have football players, members who keep up our social standing, like Cordell, and my Ford. Now, how 'bout it?

Chorus: Let's put the button on him!

(All go in the house to look under the carpet and behind chairs for pledge pins and the freshman makes his get-away.)

Curtain.

ACT II. SCENE I.

Time: About the first quarter of rush season.

Place: Sigmanoo House, further down Underwood.

Dramatis Personae: Wade, Clifford, Amasa, Gourley, et al., and the poor freshman who has stumbled in, mistaking it for a boarding house.

Wade: (Shaking hands vigorously) Come right in, you've certainly come to the best lodge on the campus. We've been here fifty or sixty years and as somebody remarked "time has had the same effect on us that it has on a piece of cheese." We don't mind that, because it's nothing but jealousy.

Windham: Join our brotherhood and we will make you one of the most popular men on Howard's campus. If I can achieve popularity, there is hope for anyone. We have the most outstanding men at the college; Clifford here, is the Man About Town from Opp, Alabama. He never wore shoes until he was eighteen, but you'd never know it now. We also have the incoming president of the Student Body, Tom Bondurant, who was put in office by a landslide of fifteen votes. He doesn't know what it's all about but don't blame him for that, we had to run somebody, and don't forget this, we are not connected with any kind of line-up either. Another thing, we did very little politicking this year in the Who's Who election, and that's to our credit.

Brother Gourley: I am Business Manager of the Bull Pup and that's no bull. Join our society and I will make you my assistant. We'll make big money and ride in Cords. What do you say?

Freshman: Says nothing.

Blackmon: (The pride of Opelika) Everybody knows that we are the best frat—.

Brother Foster: Starts up at hearing a noise like firecrackers exploding—makes a hasty exit.

Windham: (Aside) Put another stovelid on that churn, Clifford.

(Freshman dashes out the door pursued by Lamberth with a button.)

Time: Still in first quarter of rush season.

Place: Pikappaphi domicile, back of Berry Field and be sure to watch out for mudholes on the field after a rain.

Dramatis Personae: Rufus, McDanal, Padgett, and the Hall twins.

Rufus (Out on porch scanning horizon with hands shading eyes and looking anxious).

McDanal: See anything yet, Brother Rufus?

Rufus: Nope, not a darn thing.

10000 C

Padgett: It's just like this, if we don't pledge somebody—.

Rufus: (Excitedly) Hey, wait a minute.

(Frosh stumbles in whipped out after sprint from Sigmanoo House.)

McDanal: Well, we are mighty glad to see you. This is Mortgage Manor, otherwise known as the home of Pikappaphi.

J. Hall: We have many famous alumni, but right at the present time we are a little embarrassed by our lack of outstanding men in the chapter.

L. Hall: You forgot to mention Padgett.

J. Hall: Yeah, that's a fact. Well, Padgett is our most oustanding office holder. He is Business Manager of the "Crimson" and holds a big office. He also holds all the show passes he gets, too.

Padgett: How do you feel about politics, frosh? (Freshman gives a hopeless stare.)

Padgett: Well, listen here. United we stand, divided we don't get any offices. The line-up is a great thing.

Rufus: We not only have the best looking house and the niftiest pin, but we court the best looking girls. We need men and 'specially men like you.

McDanal: Let's show him the house.

Chorus: Come on frosh.

(But to no avail, for the frosh has jumped off the porch and is moving by leaps and bounds.)

ACT IV. SCENE 1.

Time: Rush Season, most hectic part of it.

Place: Thetakappanu House, built adjoining Berry Field, so the football team wont have far to go to practice.

Dramatis Personae: Hargrove, Bullard, Dew, Flanagan, et al.; also the Freshman of three previous acts.

Dew: See here, you fellows, I want you to meet one of the finest boys on the campus.

(All walk up solemnly and pump him by the hand, mashing the bones with their athletic grips.)

(Frosh winces a little but says nothing.)

Flanagan: In case you don't know it, we have the best football men in the college in this fraternity. Why, we have had practically every captain since we have been on the campus.

Dew: Don't forget to tell him about Clark.

Flanagan: Clark is captain for next year, too.

(They lead him to the mantelpiece and go through the rite of explaining where each cup came from and why.)

Bullard: We haven't been here so long, but what we lack in age we make up for in noise and athletic ability.

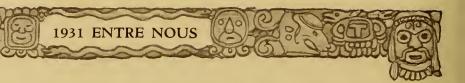

Hargrove: We aren't so selective about who we take in and we will pledge most anybody because we like to have a big house full of freshmen to beat on, it's lots of fun. Then too, it keeps down expenses to have a large crowd.

Dew: We like your looks and we might be willing to pledge you, Frosh; now what about it?

ACT VI. SCENE I.

Time: Almost the close of rush season and many are the battlescarred veterans of the Greeks.

Place: Esspeyee House, located over at the side of Berry Field. Dramatis Personae: Brothers McMurry, Urquhart, Sudduth, and Howle.

Howle: Where'd the frosh come from?

McMurry: Don't know. Seems to be tongue-tied or else suffering with lockjaw. Feels pulse in true medical style.

Sudduth: I don't know where you're from, but we need men and we kind of like your looks. We're running short on members now on account of breaking some pledges.

Urquhart: We are blossoming out this year under a new moniker, but we have just the same old bunch of thugs we used to have.

Howle: We have had some of the most important offices on the campus pardon the personal reference, ahem—but we have at the present time the Business Manager of this great and glorious annual.

Urquhart: Don't forget to tell him about Joe and the car.

Howle: Oh, yes, I almost forgot to mention the Packard that Joe owns outright. It's a great help during rush.

McMurry: Yeah, we look like a million in it. We have prestige, there's no doubt about it.

Sudduth: We always rush a big crowd because we don't often get many pledges and we believe in trying for as many as possible.

Howle: In the Spring we have lots of co-eds to come over to play tennis and bridge but we have to be careful so Miss Haynes and the Student Council won't do any reporting.

Urguhart: We are strong for the line-up, in fact it's the greatest thing about Howard, except the S. P. E. Chapter. We get anything we want through it.

Sudduth: Let's go in and look and see if we can find a button.

McMurry: Yeah, we might look under the cushions on the Chesterfield too.

Chorus: Fine idea. Frosh wait here for us.

(But frosh runs like the devil was behind him.)

ACT V. SCENE 1.

Time: Latter part of rush season; just past most hectic part.

Place: Alfalambdataw House, about in the middle of Underwood Avenue.

Dramatis Personae: Hudson, Abercrombie, Beckham, Woolley.

Beckham: Boys, give him air (excitedly summoning the good brothers).

Hicks: He surely has been airing out from somewhere.

Freshman: (Dazedly) Where am I?

Hicks: In the home of brotherly love and talent—we have no athletes here but Al Brown and he's harmless. The only time we get athletic is when we go to the dinner table and everybody begins reaching.

Woolley: We have the Vice-President of the Student Body (pointing to Abercrombie). He's one of the youngest men in school and someday he will be a great horse doctor. If you ever need—.

F. Abercrombie: Beckham is President of the Senior Class (he beams on the latter), and he would have been President of the Student Body but the faculty didn't like him.

Beckham: We have been on the campus several years and we do exercise a moving force, if I do say so.

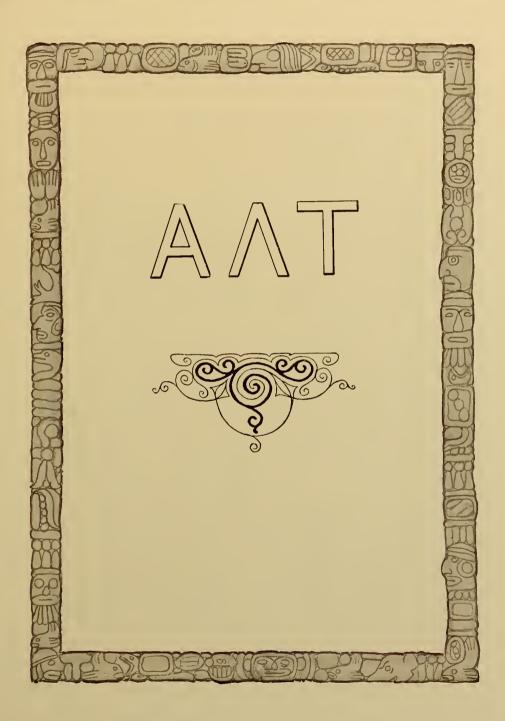

Hicks: Yeah, talking about that moving force reminds me . . . Hope the landlord doesn't get the moving force idea in his head.

Woolley: Hudson here, is one of Howard's silver tongued orators. He can make sinners weep and strong men break down and cry. You should hear him make political campaign speeches.

Abercrombie: Speaking of politics, and politicians, let me tell you Hudson is the daddy of them all. He's ward boss around here.

Beckham: We aren't a big national, but we are big at Howard. Lots of us have big mouths. We also mind our own business and do not break Pan-Hellenic rules. We report anybody else who does, too. (Freshman collapses from sheer exhaustion.)

Time: The last—absolutely, positively beyond a doubt—last day of rush for which many, many devout thanks are being breathed.

Place: Chisigmagamma Hangout—located on Underwood near the car track.

Dramatis Personae: Brothers Cox, McLendon, Colley, and Hankins. (All are seated in the swing.)

McLendon: If we don't hurry up and go national soon, we never will get anybody. Just look at what we've got now, and no prospects either (disgustedly).

Cox: What's that bumping sound?

(All get up to investigate and find an overturned red wagon of the Hill store type with its contents—one poor Freshman—all spilled over the sidewalk. They all run and grab him and bring him up on the porch.)

Hankins: Quick, get Lincoln Knight and Simmons out of sight. We want to make a good impression.

McLendon: Frosh, do you realize that we are singularly blessed in not having to apologize for a bunch of good for nothing alumni? Ye see, we haven't been here long enough to acquire any alumni worth speaking of yet.

Cox: We haven't any automobiles but we used to have a motorcycle. We haven't got it now, but maybe its best after all, because there are too many accidents on them. Aside (we have too many of them in the chapter now).

Colley: We always get what we want for the simple reason that nobody else wants it.

McLendon: Cox is President of Y, Strength messes around on the "Crimson" and "Entre Nous" and "Atwater" Kent and I play baseball. Some of us go to church and the rest of us go—.

New Secret Organization Discovered on Campus

You knew that already? Well, you don't know the half of it, as Dean Burns remarked when he wrote the Shakespeare exam on the board. This organization is so secret that nobody who isn't a member knows it exists. How do we know? That would be telling, but anyway we know.

The name of this select society is Iota Mu Mu, which in plain ol' everyday English means, I, Me, Myself. The members use these three words frequently in conversation merely as a means of recognition, of course. The qualification for membership is an immensely inflated ego. You would never suspect that, however, from the conduct of the members.

The chapter roll reads like "Who's Who" at Howard. All professors are automatically made members with Miss Haynes holding the highest rank. The Grand High Noble Potentate of the order is Mardis Howle, a man who loves himself and his pipe to distraction. The other members no less struck with their own superiority and greatness are as follows:

Amasa Bonaparte Windham, a guy who shoots a line so strong you can hang the week's wash on it.

Leon Socrates Levine, whose philosophy and wisdom overflows the columns of the Crimson weekly.

Braxton Bigmouth Carr, the boy with the elevated brow.

Frances Rockpile Vail, who has a corner on intellect among women.

Jimmy California Cooper, whose forceful personality will get him anywhere, even to Rose Bowl.

Lee and Joe Hall, who explain that they were so wonderful they had to be twins to hold it all.

Margaret Lawyer Fitzpatrick, first woman governor of Alabama.

Lemuel Hercules Strength, "Colyumnist" supreme of the Crimson. Strange, isn't it the preponderance of masculine names on the chapter roll.

Prominent Members of Iota Mu Mu

There was once a professor named Bo Who hypnotized thirty or so They all were awake But just for fun's sake They put on a wonderful show.

There was once a lad named Wade Who of women was shy and afraid He joined up with the "Snakes" And found out his mistakes—
That's how many a Don Juan was made.

Picture of a Howard Student Attending Chapel

There was once a co-ed named Zou Whose spankings you knew had been few She went Delta Zeta And a little while later She was all over black and blue.

Bill was an innocent child Who thought darn was terribly wild He went Pi K. A. and now they say Any old word is too mild.

SHORT SHOTS

ENTITLED "BOLONEY" IN SIX ACTS

No. 1.

Setting: Montague steps. Sigs, Pikayas and A. D. Pi's.

Time: Rush season.

Cast: Evie Mae, Bishop, Polly, Sara Bates, et al.

Bates: We go out for the social life.

Evie Mae: Go our way and you'll be popular like we are.

Bates: Our standards are high.

No. 2.

Setting: Main Building, Dee Zee Room, pennants, books, hardwood floors, cushions, chairs..

Time: Early Autumn.

Cast: Leona, Fitz, Jeanette, Lilyclaire, "Red Davis" and a new co-ed freshie.

Chorus supported by Fitz: We always get the best girls on the campus. Don't pay any attention to that other crowd, they're nothing but a literary society and don't rate nationally anywhere. We hold a lot of campus offices (aside), all of you be sure and go to class meetings today, we've got to get in on those elections or we'll be holding the sack.

No. 3.

Setting: First floor of Main, Phi Mu room, profusion of pennants, pillows, a chesterfield, banjo clock, radio, etc.

Time: Anytime.

Cast: Ansley, Awtrey, Florence, Harris, Mary Frances.

Awtrey: This room looks terrible. In fact, I don't know if I have ever seen it look worse. We never will get anybody if it looks like this all the time.

Florence: Those pledges are too trifling for words. I'm in favor of giving them a good beating now and then.

Harris: Same here.

Awtrey: Quick, cut that radio off; here comes Miss Lottie.

Door opens violently and Miss Lottie shouts: Cut that thing off this minute.

Don't you know you will disturb classes?

Mary Frances: She's gone, thank goodness. Turn it back on.

[All breathe a sigh of relief.]

No. 4.

Setting: Third floor of Main, S. I. X. room.

Time: Pick your own.

Cast: Hazel, Ruth, Tera Dell, Mayme, et al. Also a freshie.

Ruth: We have more good looking girls than—

Hazel: Ruth makes the beauty section every year.

Ruth: Yes, and Hazel makes it every year too.

Tera Dell: We're going to move into our house pretty soon.

Chorus: We have cute girls and the daringest rush parties. They're just simply angel!

No. 5.

Setting: Beta Phi Alpha room.

Time: Once upon a time.

Cast: Martha, Frances, Cale, Nellie and others.

Martha: We're far enough away from the faculty not to have them meddling around here all the time.

Frances: We can play our radio whenever we want to.

Nellie: If it hadn't been for a certain crowd we would have had some good girls. Anyway, we've got the scholarship cup and that's all that counts.

No. 6.

Setting: Alpha Delta Theta room.

Time: Oh, sometime.

Cast: Julia, Marion, Lonnell and Lucile.

Julia: Now, remember everybody, we want to go to Y. W. today.

Chorus: We always go to Y. W.

Julia: Another thing, we don't want to start cutting classes because we'll get in bad with the faculty.

Chorus: We won't cut any classes.

All: Isn't it great to be sisters together.
Three cheers for A. D. Theta.

A DISSERTATION ON THE BENEFITS OF A LIBERAL EDUCATION WITH PROPER ILLUSTRATIONS

RICHARDSON O'NEAL PARKS

When I left Fort Payne and ventured out into the cold, crool world I was not sure how things would turn out at this noble institute, but one look at my picture shows that all has turned out for the best. Now ain't that so?

Signed, Anne Will Richardson.

I am a Bolshevik. That's what too much education and culture has done for nie—to say nothing of too many lecture notes and too much chapel attendance. Watch out, I'm a bad man.

Signed, Norman O'Neal.

I have worn myself out physically and mentally trying to keep up with the cute co-eds and as a result I am now an old man. But dear friends it has been worth it all. Never mind my face, I have a kind heart.

You can easily see that I have derived great benefits, in fact, untold benefits from a liberal education. When I came to H'ard just four short years ago I was but a mere slip of a lass and now I am— Well, just see for yourself.

There is a constantly increasing demand for the young woman or young man of poise and tact, college trained, who is competent to make appointments, arrange conferences, take minutes of meetings and relieve the busy executive of routine and confidential details. The field is uncrowded and the salary rewards are unusually attractive. We recommend our Secretarial Course for the capable young man or woman attractive. We recommend our Secretarial Course for the capable young man or woman who is ambitious to get into the best business positions.

In keeping with its policy of giving Wheeler Students the best possible business training, the College maintains a well-equipped Office Practice Department with a trained teacher in charge, where every graduate is given an opportunity for actual office experience before accepting a position.

We believe that our students are happy in their work. We know that there are no two students of exactly the same ability, or exactly the same capacity, and we seek to find in each his special talents and to develop them accordingly. We combine the class and personal methods of instruction.

There is something in a Wheeler training that places a stamp of distinction upon its graduates. This explains the constant demand for our graduates.

The Home of Beautiful Flowers

-We Hope This Little Rumor Was Greatly Exaggerated.

But we heard that the idea had fairly run riot among certain collegiate groups, that our store is just a bit "high hat" for the more modest school allowances.

Decidedly not! Perhaps we have been so centered in spreading the endless store of our intriguing fashions and fine qualities that we've failed to make it perfectly clear that this is an inclusive store rather than an exclusive store. Our individual fashions may be really priceless in the esteem of their wearers, but they are priced within easy reach of every school allowance.

"No, we are neither 'high hat' nor high priced"
